“The true gospel consists of two things: The Word, and The Power. Anyone can have the word; the books in which it is written are universally available. But the power must come from God; it is and must be dispensed according to his mind and his will to those who abide the law entitling them to receive it. The word of the gospel is the spoken or written account of what men must do to be saved... But actual salvation comes only when the power of God is received and used; and this power is the power of the priesthood and the power of the Holy Ghost.”

The Tabernacle

HEBREWS 9

Read the section about the Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur while looking at the diagram on the previous page.
(Bible Dictionary “Fasts”)

Once a year on the Jewish holy day called the Day of Atonement (also called Yom Kippur), the high priest was allowed to enter the Most Holy Place (also called the Holy of Holies) in the tabernacle or, later, the Jerusalem temple. There, the high priest sacrificed a bullock and a he-goat. He sprinkled the animals' blood in designated places in the Most Holy Place to symbolize Christ's Atonement for the priest's sins and for the people's sins. The high priest then symbolically transferred the people's sins onto another he-goat (called the scapegoat), which was then driven into the wilderness, signifying the removal of the people's sins. He also sacrificed two rams as burnt offerings for himself and the people. (See Bible Dictionary, “Fasts”; see also Leviticus 16:22.)

“These teachings highlight three basic elements of faith: (1) faith as the assurance of things hoped for that are true, (2) faith as the evidence of things not seen, and (3) faith as the principle of action in all intelligent beings. I describe these three components of faith in the Savior as simultaneously facing the future, looking to the past, and initiating action in the present.”
